

Unearthly Things

The worst is over... help has arrived.. and you're still standing... What happens next?

Lieutenant Jacey Rexen gets the chance to find out when her excitement about her last-minute posting on SS Ilex turns to terror as the space station comes under attack. Hidden away, Jacey and Tate Yarker, a maintenance grunt, struggle to survive.

But Tate, who hates the military for their uncaring treatment of him after his parents were killed by pirates, doesn't trust Jacey. And his short-fused outbursts convince her that he is probably a smuggler with something to hide.

Can they overcome their mutual distrust long enough to survive these deadly creatures?